Palmisano Park, formerly known as Stearns Quarry, is a 26.60-acre site on Chicago's southwest side in the heart of the Bridgeport community. Its story is one of transformation, as it has changed from coral reefs to quarry to landfill to park. Not surprisingly, each incarnation played a major role in developing the next. Take the Palmisano Park Audio Tour.

This is a dynamic park, with a fishing pond, interpretive wetlands, preserved quarry walls, trails, an athletic field, a running track, and a hill that offers dramatic views. Over 1.7 miles of paths, including recycled timber boardwalks, concrete walks, a crushed stone running path, and metal grating walkways traverse the park. These trails allow for a variety of experiences along the quarry wall, across the terracing wetlands, and down to the pond. Scenic overlooks provide dramatic overviews of the pond and wetlands, and spectacular city views can be seen from the mound.

Public Transportation

Palmisano is served by the following buses #8 Halsted (27th St. or 29th St.), #31 (31st St. & Halstead), #44 Wallace/Racine (Wallace & 29th St. + a 9min walk/roll), #62 Archer (Halsted Orange Line Sta. + a 7min walk/roll).

Palmisano is a 7min walk/roll from the CTA Orange Line - Halsted Station.

Parking

There is free parking all along west 29th St, which is between Palmisano and McGuane Park.
2850 S Halsted St, Chicago, IL 60608
